PREFACE.

It is with mingled feelings of relief and pleasure that the accompanying Catalogue is presented to the fraternity. During fifteen months the labor has been all-absorbing, and the relief at realizing the task completed, is known only to those who have experienced the sensation. The demands of the Catalogue have consumed much time that should have been spent in other employments. But the time and labor have been given freely, and if the results are such as to receive the approval of the fraternity, the Editor will feel that the time has not been spent in vain.

A few words concerning the Catalogue itself may not be amiss. It has been the Editor's aim and object to prepare a book which should be full, accurate and complete in every particular, and at the same time be clear and concise. Accordingly no historical narratives of the chapters are published, but the important facts, dates, names, etc., are given briefly and uniformly for all chapters. The book is intended for use rather than for ornament, and accordingly all illustrations are omitted, with the exception of the heraldic frontispiece. For convenience in finding, the chapter rolls have been inserted in (Greek) alphabetic order, rather than in the order of their establishment, and for the same reason the lists of members have been similarly arranged. The geographical index of members, the first that has appeared in a K. A. Catalogue, has been prepared with considerable expenditure of labor, and it is hoped that its usefulness will justify the outlay.

The progress and growth of the Order is most gratifying. At the date of the last Catalogue (1891) 2309 persons had been initiated, and of this number 2138 were alive and in good standing. Within nine years the members have almost doubled, and the first Catalogue contains the names of 4481 initiates, of whom 4119 are alive and in good standing. During the same time fourteen chapters have been chartered (one of which is now inactive), thus increasing the number of living chapters from 27 to 40.

Owing to a variety of causes, the Editor has done much of the work unaided, but to all who have in any way assisted in the labor, or who have offered to assist, the Editor expresses his gratitude and thanks. To the chapter Historians and to those who prepared the catalogue reports for the inactive chapters, especial thanks are given. The assistance rendered and services performed by Bros. Tazewell T. Hubard, Grand Historian, and Robert E. Pritchard, Editor of the JOURNAL, have been such as to merit the title of Associate Editors of the Catalogue, and to these thanks are due, not only from the Catalogue Editor, but from the entire fraternity.

And now as the book nears completion and goes from the Editor to the Fraternity, the hope is expressed that through the means of the Catalogue the Editor has been enabled to contribute in some measure to the unifying, solidifying, and upbuilding of our beloved Order.

Fraternally,

PAUL MURRILL, Cat. Ed. K. A. O.

Auburn, Ala., November 15, 1900.

In a work of this kind it is almost impossible to secure freedom from error, and it is known that many errors have escaped the watchfulness of the proof readers, and it is to be expected that there are many inaccuracies that could not be detected. In order that the records of the fraternity may be further perfected it is requested that any and all errors which may be discovered at any time, and by any one into whose hands this book may come, will be reported to the Grand Historian, T. T. Hubard, 50 Bank St., Norfolk, Va.

History* of the K. A. Fraternity

AND

Its Institutions.

The Kappa Alpha Order had its origin in a fraternity organized at Washington College, Lexington, Va., December 21, 1865, by James Ward Wood, William Nelson Scott, Stanhope McClelland Scott and William A. Walsh.† The first meeting was held in the southernmost room of the South Dormitory, a building since replaced by Newcomb Hall. A ritual, drafted by Wood, was adopted. W. N. Scott was chosen (I), and Wood (III), after which W. M. Bell, R. S. Thompson and T. E. McCorkle were initiated. Thompson was made (II), Stanhope Scott (VIII) and other offices were filled. There was, of course, at that time no (IV) and no (V).

The appearance of a new fraternity produced a commotion in the college world. The number of students was but 146, and there were already five fraternities. The new competitor was accordingly by no means welcome, but encountered bitter opposition which continued for several years. It was waited upon by a committee and urged to abandon a hopeless undertaking. But Wood persisted in his enterprise, and before the end of the session R. N. Gillespie, Wm. Saville, T. J. Hanson and S. L. Kirkpatrick were added to the roll. Meetings were held monthly with great secrecy in the rooms of members. There was much to do and there were many obstacles to overcome. Happily the founders were serenely unconscious of the thousand details to be attended to in organizing a successful fraternity, and went forward without an oppressive sense of responsibility.

The badge devised by Wood was the same in form and lettering as that now in use. It was of one sheet of metal and enamel—not, as now, with a smaller shield inescutcheoned. Plain and without the pearls, rubies and diamonds added by the luxury of the present generation, it was from the point of view of

*The tables were prepared by Paul Murrill, editor of the Catalogue, chiefly from data obtained from T. T. Hubard, the Grand Historian.

†Documents recently discovered among Walsh's papers appear to render doubtful his claim to a place among the founders, and in the light of new facts it would seem that a distinction should be drawn between the originators and organizers of the fraternity. Wood and Wm. N. Scott were the originators. They selected Walsh and S. M. Scott, and the first meeting was held in Walsh's room. [Murrill, July, 1900.

heraldry, the most nearly correct escutcheon possessed by any American fraternity.

Five members—Wood, the two Scotts, Thompson and Kirkpatrick—returned at the beginning of the next session. The old officers were continued. There was an enormous influx of new students and seven initiates were speedily secured. Of these but two, Stewart and Ammen, were faithful. The rest, being discontented, concerted a rebellion. They had joined to improve their position and to learn some of the awful secrets of the chapter room. They were disappointed to find themselves members of a new organization, small in numbers, opposed by the other fraternities and without sister chapters in other colleges. Secrets, there were none, the poverty of the ritual being obtrusive. The new members did not see much profit for themselves in their new relation and proposed to resign. They were at once expelled for violation of their obligation. The remaining members drew closer together, but the incident was terribly depressing and prevented further proposals of new members for months afterward. It had, however, the good result of teaching conservatism and of impressing members with the necessity of improving the ritual and devising other internal helps and attractions.

At Ammen's suggestion a new ritual was evolved and a new motto adopted, with the result of converting the "society," "lodge" or "council," as it was variously called, into an Order of Knighthood, with a military organization and appropriate initiatory ceremonies. There was introduced a new leading idea which was susceptible of indefinite development, in lieu of the abstract proposition on which Wood's ritual was based. The latter was very brief, consisting of a short dialogue, a poem quoted entire, a declamatory lecture, a constitution to sign and an oath to keep it all secret. It presented one inspiriting sentiment, but suggested no striking historical event, or dramatic situation, such as might be illustrated by an imposing ceremonial, rich vestments, banners and other adjuncts of an impressive initiation.

The evolution of the new ritual began in 1866, and was approximately completed by the fall of 1868. The work fell to Ammen, as being the hardest worker. Material was gathered from his reading, chapter experience and essays read at chapter meetings. The ruling ideas were the aspirations expressed, during the formative period, in the essays of leading members. The ritual, in fact, was not made; it grew. Little by little the old ritual, in the process of emendation, passed out of the text, giving place to a new one with a different motif. Changes were facilitated by the fact that all our literature was in manuscript.

They continued till the text became fixed by printing the Ritual and Constitution in 1870. After that date there were no material additions or changes till 1893, when the text was again taken in hand by its author and carefully revised and enlarged.

In the evolution of ritual and constitution nothing was borrowed from other fraternities, with respect to which the founders had very little knowledge or liking. There was no Baird at that time, or for many years after. Working out its ethical ideas and problem of government in its own way, and in the light of its own experience, the Order little by little created its present elaborate and efficient system, which differs in important particulars from that of any other College fraternity.

The fundamental principles of the Order were suggested by the circumstances of the time and place of its origin. Its essential teaching was that members should cherish the Southern ideal of character—that of the chivalrous warrior of Christ, the Knight who loves God and country, honors and protects pure womanhood, practices courtesy and magnanimity of spirit and prefers self-respect to ill-gotten wealth. Something might thus be saved from the wreck of material interests and political rights caused by the Civil War. Students at Lexington in 1866–68 saw all reputable citizens excluded from public life and the dregs of the population placed in control of affairs. What was best and most distinctive in Southern civilization seemed to be threatened with extinction under the new regime. There was needed, it was felt, an effort and an organization to stay the change.

Environment, therefore, determined the nature of the new fraternity. Conceived and matured at a college of which Gen. R. E. Lee was president, at the close of a fateful military conflict; in the Valley of Virginia made dear to Southern hearts by its vigor in battling for Southern rights; in sight of the ruins of the Virginia Military Institute, plundered and wrecked by the infamous Hunter's invading force; among the people with whom Stonewall Jackson lived till duty called him to arms, and near the spot to which his body was brought for sepulture after Chancellorsville—with this environment it was but natural that the Order should be of a semi-military* type and have for its aim the cultivation of virtues and graces conceived to be distinctively Southern. It was not an importation; it was racy of the soil that gave it birth. Southern in its loves, it took Jackson and Lee as its favorite types of the perfect Knight. Caucasian in its sympathies, it excluded the African from membership. Not unnaturally, therefore, despite the absence of anything political or sectional in its laws, the Kappa Alpha Order has restricted its activity to the Southern States. By a true instict—happily almost universal—its members have readily perceived that in the South, and in the South alone, can it find a congenial home.

Toward the close of the session of '66–'67, the chapter was strengthened by the initiation of W. A. Rogers, C. J. Kilgour and Jo. Lane Stern. During the vacation the paraphernalia now in use were devised by Ammen, who made colored drawings to guide in making up the various articles. The "explanation of symbols" was produced at the same time.

The session '67–'68 was the most prosperous in the history of the Old Alpha. The two Scotts, Bell, Kirkpatrick, Kilgour, Stern and Ammen returned, Martin, Collins and J. F. Rogers were initiated, and Beta and Gamma were founded. Ammen was made (I). A permanent home was found in Ann Smith Academy,* where with the kind aid of Mrs. Scott, Will's mother, a Chapter Room was fitted up for our use, to the great joy and comfort of the membership. Here the paraphernalia were first employed in the initiation of Frank Rogers. Here, too, we had our banquets, with toasts and speeches that fired all hearts. In March, '68, four good men of the Virginia Military Institute were initiated and Beta was established. Up to this time the history of Alpha is the history of the Order, but with the organization of Beta—and particularly with the organization of Gamma by Collins in April, '68—our history broadens and divides itself into many diverging lines. It will, however, be convenient to trace the story of Alpha to its conclusion with the extinction of the Chapter in '70, since it was in this period that the office of K. C. was created, and the Ritual and Constitution were given the form which they retained, substantially, till 1893.

The office of K. C. was created May 1, '68, at the suggestion of the (I), to relieve the latter of the labor of correspondence with the new chapters. The new official was to be an officer of Alpha, ranking as (II) and subject to the orders of the (I) of Alpha, who, at this period, directed the affairs of the whole fraternity. The supreme control, by our law, was in the senior chapter, and the K. C. was to transmit to the other chapters the "decrees" of the parent chapter, to supply them with manuscript rituals and copies of the Code, and, generally, to attend to the interests common to all the chapters.

In the session '68-'69 Stern (I), Martin, Kirkpatrick, J. F. Rogers, and Ammen returned. There were no initiations. The only events were the founding of Delta and Epsilon. In the following session Martin, (I) and Stern returned, and Clemmitt, Cloughton, and Iverson were initiated. Zeta and Eta were founded by Stern. Ammen, who was K. C., was residing in Kentucky where he completed the First Degree, and had the Ritual and Constitution* printed, with additions and changes to which he procured Alpha's assent. With the close of the session '69-'70, Alpha became extinct, to be revived in '75; to perish again in '78 and be revived again in '85. Ammen, whom it had made K. C. in February, '69, remained K. C. till March 31, '71, when he resigned.

At Alpha's demise, Beta, as being the Senior Chapter, succeeded to the supreme power, and, at Ammen's suggestion, elected W. W. Collins, of Georgia, K. C. At the end of Collins' term, Beta being now inactive, Gamma succeeded to the sovereignty and made J. L. Hardeman, of Georgia, K. C.

The Constitution as fixed in the text of '70 provided for an annual convention of limited powers, its acts not having the force of laws till confirmed by the chapters. But the chapters usually neglected to act on the convention's proposals, so that the system was unsatisfactory. Government by the senior chapter was also unsatisfactory, as being inequitable. The chapters, it was held, should have an equal voice in the election of the K. C., in whose hands lay the entire control of the common interest.

In theory the K. C. was a chapter officer, subordinate to the (I) of the senior chapter, but Ammen had been continued in the office after he left college, so that, as a matter of fact, he was no longer subject to Alpha's guidance, but necessarily acted for the most part on his discretion. He remained K. C. after Alpha's demise, when Beta had become the ruling chaper. The chapters were thus familiarized with the idea that the K. C. need not be an active member, need not be a member of the senior chapter, and need not be subject to any chapter's supervision in performing the duties of his office. Hence the events of 1873.

The convention of that year not only assumed† absolute powers of legislation, abolishing the referendum, but it made the K. C.

*It is of interest to indicate what parts of our present ritual, laws and institutions we owe to various members. To J. W. Wood we owe the badge, the name K. A., the names of most chapter officers, most of the opening and closing ceremonies, one paragraph of the ritual proper, an English quotation and several modified paragraphs elsewhere; altogether about two pages. To S. Z. Ammen we owe all of the rest of the ritual, except that part of the secret work suggested to the convention of '93 by G. D. Letcher; also the grip, the meaning of K. A., paraphernalia, explanation of symbols, the offices of K. C. and C. S. with their names, our "flowers," charter, seal, coat-of-arms, crest, most of the constitution as formed in '66-'68 and revised and expanded by him in '70 and '93, form of C. S. & Pursers' report blanks, the button, the office of C. A. and Special Messenger. At the suggestion of J. L. Hardeman the conventionof '73 gave the K. C. his present status; that of '85, led by J. A. Williams, made the Journal a permanent success by creating the G. P. system. H. H. White, in 85, selected our colors, crimson and gold. The laws creating the library and other important laws of the Code of '93 were drafted by T. T. Hubard. Wm. S. Hamilton originated the Council of Honor.

†"The convention of '73 did not assume the governing power, but accepted it. The true history of that transaction I can give. I was K. C. when the convention met in Athens in '73. At its first meeting I decided the power was in Gamma. I then got the (I) of Gamma to call a meeting of that chapter. I then introduced a resolution in Gamma that she yield to the convention the power she had, and ask the convention to accept it. At the next day's session of the convention, the convention accepted it. I, as K. C., then decided that the power was in convention."—Extract of letter from Hardeman to Murrill, June 23, 1900.

an officer of the Order, not of a chapter. It enlarged his authority, gave him rank above all other officers, and provided for his election by the convention. In the interval between conventions he was to be the supreme and only executive. The effect of the change was to give the Order a strong government, unlike that of any other fraternity. Since 1885 the collection of the General Fund has been devolved upon another official, but otherwise the K. C.'s duties have retained their comprehensive character. In the revision of laws in 1893 his authority over other general officers was explicitly reaffirmed and defined, and his relations with certain chapter officers were made clear.

Apart from the story of the growth of the Order by the founding of new chapters, its history consists for the most part in the record of the development of its institutions, ritual, laws, offices, publications and other signs and instruments of progress. As respects ritual, there were two creative periods, '66-70 and '93. Our laws have grown in all periods, the chief revisions and additions being those of '70 and '93.

The Knight Commanders.

In the interval between conventions the K. C. is the sole authority for the determination of questions of administration in matters affecting the Order as a whole, as also in matters concerning the chapters and their relations with the Order. The G. H., G. P., Editor and C. A. report to him and he decides questions arising with respect to their several departments. His control is made effective by the fact that all payments from the Order's treasury require his sanction. It is the K. C. who decides in principle how the year's outlay is to be proportioned and what expenditures may be undertaken. He decides all questions of ritual, law and policy. This wide discretion has been given him in order that he may be in a position to decide promptly the innumerable questions to which the letter of the law gives no explicit answer, in order that our government, having flexibility, may be able to adapt itself to new circumstances as they arise.

General Organization.

The office of Purser dates back to the beginning of the fraternity, the duty of the incumbent originally being merely to look after the Chapter's finances. When in '85 the office of Grand Purser was created it was made the duty of the Purser to forward to him monthly dues to the General Fund, which the C. S. has previously been required to send to the K. C. annually. The office of C. S. was created—by the K. C., it seems, in his revision of the Code in '70—as a means of bringing the chapters into closer relations with the K. C. and with each other. It was made the duty of the incumbent to "furnish such statistics as the K. C. may require." Originally he was required to report in January and June, using report-blanks supplied by the K. C. for the purpose. In '71 quarterly reports were required, and it was on the basis of the report-blanks left in use in '71 that Hardeman in '73 and '75 and Neal in '78 prepared their General Catalogues. But at some unknown date after '80, the Knight Commanders began to neglect* their duty of supplying the chapters with

* The responsibility for this would attach chiefly to the first K. C. who omitted to send out report-blanks and to exact reports. His successors—some of whom we know were zealous officers—may have supposed that the law had never been enforced. The K. C. who first neglected reports did so presumably from ignorance of the law and custom of the Order. Such neglect is now happily impossible.

report-blanks and exacting the reports required by law. The Chief Executive ceased, accordingly, to be in close contact with the Chapters and to be well-informed as to their status and conduct, with the result that he lost influence. Another result was laxity of discipline in the chapters and a partial loss of the sense of unity. Chapters began to isolate themselves, giving little attention to their duty to the Order as a whole. This tendency to anarchy was to some extent arrested by the revival of the JOURNAL in '83, and by the monthly reports of Pursers to the G. P. required by the law of '85, through the more frequent intercourse thus secured.

As the law in regard to reports of the C. S. to the K. C. was vague, and the K. C. required no reports, he received none, it appears, in the interval between '79 and '91, except such as might be made informally in private letters. The K. C. elected in '91—having left quarterly reports in use in '71—was amazed to find himself entirely out of touch with the Chapters and General Officers. He was not in the current of affairs. No reports came to him from any quarter, so that he had to apply to others for the addresses of Chapter officers!

To bring the Chapters and General Officers again into proper relations with the K. C., the latter in '91 prescribed a system of reports which had the effect of completing the general organization. By an executive order the C. S. was required to report monthly certain chapter facts, and twice a year to report names and addresses for use in compiling the Annual Catalogue. The Purser was required to report monthly to the K. C., as well as to the G. P., so as to provide means of auditing the G. P.'s accounts. The C. H. (the office was created Oct. 2, 1885), was required to report to the G. H. annually. Finally the General Officers were required to report to the K. C. at stated times. Our original scheme of government, thus revived and expanded, was confirmed by the Convention of '93. Books and pads containing the prescribed report-blanks were sent to the proper Chapter Officers and the system now in use was at length firmly established.

The general scheme of organization, bringing the other General Officers into relation with the Chapters, is as follows:

OFFICERS OF THE ORDER.	OFFICERS OF THE CHAPTER.
I. K. C.—Chief Executive..... ....Chapter Secretary.
Receives reports from all General Officers yearly, or oftener at his discretion; receives reports from the C. S. and P. monthly; also Catalogue facts from the C. S. semi-annually; manages the Order's affairs.	Represents the K. C. in the Chapter; reports to the K. C. monthly and sends Catalogue facts to the K. C. semi-annually; also writes chapter letters to the JOURNAL.

Officers of the Order.	Officers of the Chapter.
II. G. H.—Keeper of Records	....Chapter Historian.
Receives reports of membership, &c., from the C. H. yearly; gives transfers; has all Rituals under control; supplies Chapters with report-blanks, books, &c; has all publications for sale. Reports to the K. C.	Represents the G. H. in the chapter; writes the Chapter History; keeps the Chapter History up to date; reports to the G. H. yearly and sends report-blanks to Alumni yearly.
III. G. P.—Collector and Treasurer.	Purser.
Receives reports and dues from the Pursers monthly; has charge of the General Fund and the Hist. and Catalogue Fund; pays bills approved by the K. C.; reports to the K. C.	Represents the G. P. in the Chapter; reports to the K. C. and G P. monthly; sends dues to the G P. monthly.

IV. Editor.—Edits the JOURNAL: receives Chapter letters from the C. S.'s bimonthly; reports to the K. C.

V. Chief Alumnus.—Organizes alumni chapters; reports to the K. C.

Conventions.

The source of authority is the Convention which meets biennially at the call of the K. C. It is composed of delegates from the Chapters, and General Officers. Its function is to consider the reports of the General Officers, to audit accounts, to devise measures for the efficient administration of the Order's affairs, to legislate, subject to severe restrictions fixed by the Constitution, and to elect General Officers. These officers are the Knight Commander, Grand Historian, Grand Purser, Editor, and Chief Alumnus. An Electoral Commission is named to elect General Officers, when, in the interval between Conventions, it is notified by the K. C., or G. H., that a vacancy exists. The power of a majority of the Convention varies with the nature of the proposal before it, a simple majority being competent to transact ordinary business, but practical unanimity being required for important changes.

Our Constitution was modified and enlarged—but very sparingly—by successive Conventions, from '73 to '93. In the first printed (1870) edition, it had 14 pages; in the second ('74) 13 pages; in the third ('86) 19 small pages; in the fourth ('93) 67 large pages. Conventions since '93 have added excessively to the Constitution, making it difficult for college boys to learn and observe our laws. The K. C. is older than the Convention, but our other General Officers have been created by that body. Progress has been along the line of devolving upon new officials—as the growth of the Order made the work excessive—labors originally performed by the K. C., but keeping in his hands the power of directing and controlling everything in principle, to the end that responsibility may be centred in one person. By this device of concentrating responsibility the Order has secured efficient administration and general success.

Our Ritual has been deemed sacred and left virtually untouched by Conventions. Of Wood's draft (1865) this much survived the formative period extending from '66 to '70, namely, the opening and closing ceremonies, one paragraph in the ritual proper, part of a lecture, names of certain officers, the badge and the signal of admission. Between '66 and '70 the ritual was greatly expanded and wholly altered in character by the introduction of a new leading idea. The Paraphernalia now in use were then devised, as also the grip and meaning of K. A. ('66). The First Degree was added in '70, when the Ritual and Constitution were first printed. After '70 there were no changes of ritual till '93, when its author again took it in hand, removing crudities, expanding certain parts and adding new features in consonance with the old. As thus revised the Ritual was adopted by the Convention of '93, together with certain secret work suggested by G. D. Letcher. The ritual proper was thus enlarged from 22 small to 33 large pages, besides additions to the Order of Business, ceremony of installing officers and description of Paraphernalia. The extent of the development in '93 is roughly indicated by the fact that our "Book" of '86 had, all told, but 53 pages; that of 93 has 113 pages, besides index and supplements.

Department of History.

The office of Grand Historian was created by the Convention of 1874, with a view to the accumulation of materials for the history of the Order and of the Chapters. Important documents in charge of successive K. C.'s had been lost, and it was felt to be necessary to have a custodian of valued archives. To the first incumbents the office was in effect a sinecure, as the Order has nothing tangible from their hands. Our superb collection of historical data, revised Chapter lists, material for General Catalogues, etc., is due wholly to the initiative and steady labor of the present Grand Historian. The Order's fireproof safe—secured by his personal exertions—now contains priceless records which enable us to trace the development of the Order and its institutions back to their beginning. To give the G. H. a representative in the Chapters and secure greater attention to Chapter records the Convention of 1885 created the office of Chapter Historian. In the revision of the Constitution in 1893 the functions of the G. H. were greatly enlarged so that he has become an active and prominent participant in the Order's current work. He receives for example, yearly reports from the Chapter Historians who send him the names of all members for his record; certifies and validates all transfers; is the K. C.'s successor; has charge of all supplies for the chapters; traces yearly each outstanding Ritual and has under his care all publications of the Order, including such as are for sale. In his Library may be found every known document bearing on our history.

The Journal.

The JOURNAL had its origin in a resolution of the Convention of 1878, which, after declaring for its publication, named two editors and three canvassers. The duty of the latter was to obtain from active and alumni members subscriptions adequate to pay the cost of publication, the Order's treasury being at that time in a chronic state of depletion, owing to the smallness of the sum payable annually by active members as dues to the General Fund and to imperfect collections. Dues were due only in the last month of the session, and responsibility for their payment was ill-defined. The C. S. was expected to collect and forward them to the K. C. "one week before the close of the session," but that official then as now, often forgot his duty, unless prodded, and at the end of the session it was too late to prod him. But had the C. S.'s been ever so faithful and successful in collecting, still the aggregate of cash in the hands of the K. C. would have been inadequate, since the law at that time made many demands on the General Fund. Besides being utilizable for printing catalogues and other matter, it was to be applied to extending the Order, defraying expenses of Conventions, schooling indigent boys and girls and relieving destitute brother K. A's. In 1878, D. R. Neal, K. C., had just issued the 3rd General Catalogue, and this important work had doubtless exhausted the treasury. The imperfect financial machinery of that time accordingly necessitated the resort to canvassers—that is to say, to a committee whose members might, or might not, be energetic and successful in collecting money, and whose ability to find time for the work was subject to all sorts of accidents. Under such a system the JOURNAL'S income was bound to be variable and uncertain.

Vol. I. of the JOURNAL was planned to consist of three numbers, each of 40 pages. The first number appeared in February, 1879, the second in August, the third in December, after which the publication ceased, owing doubtless to the inability of the canvassers to renew the spurt of energy to which their success with the first volume was due. The literary merit of Vol. I. has not been surpassed by any of its successors, but it was lacking in certain features, such as chapter letters, which experience has shown to be necessary in fraternity publications. The publication reappeared in November, 1883, under the name "Kappa Alpha Magazine," and since that time publication has been continuous. This volume (1883–4) was incorrectly marked "Vol. I."—an error that effects the numbering of all subsequent volumes. In October, 1885, the title "Kappa Alpha JOURNAL" was resumed.

In 1885, at the instance of J. A. Williams, of Omega, the Convention took a step which for the first time gave the Order a full treasury and made possible the regular publication and constant development of the JOURNAL. The annual contribution per member per session to the General Fund was quintupled, and it was decided to support the JOURNAL out of the General Fund, voluntary subscriptions being no longer relied upon. A "Grand Purser" was created to collect the General Fund from the Chapters, and the Chapter Pursers were required to pay dues to this officer monthly. The work of collecting and editing was placed on a strictly business basis by giving the Grand Purser a commission of 5 per cent. on his collections and by creating the office of Editor-in-Chief and establishing the principal of paying him for his services. In 1891 the editor was given a salary of $300, which was increased in 1896 by the K. C. to $400, with the proviso that deductions from this increase should be made for issues not "on time." The convention of 1899 gave this proviso the force of law. Vol. I. of Journal was printed at Richmond, Va.; Vol. I. of Magazine consisting of four numbers, each of 32 pages, was issued, the first number from Charleston, S. C., the others from Atlanta, Ga.; Vol. II. consisting of two numbers of 52 and 60 pages respectively, appeared in November, 1884, and April, 1885. Subsequent volumes were printed at Nashville, till 1898, when Lexington, Ky., became the place of publication. In 1885–87 and in 1889–91 the JOURNAL was a monthly, becoming a bi-monthly publication again in 1891.

With a steady income and no unpaid bills to worry over, the Editor after 1885 began to occupy a comfortable position, the charms of which are now much enhanced by an adequate salary. As respects questions of general policy and law, the Editor conforms to the decisions of the K. C., his function being to make the JOURNAL a medium of communication between the Chapters, between the General Officers and the Chapters and between the Chapters and the Alumni. He is in a position to promote unity of spirit and action, to bind the Chapters together and impress the world with the Order's solidity and importance.

THE JOURNAL'S GROWTH.

The subjoined table shows that the JOURNAL has grown steadily in size and cost, from 120 pages per volume, costing $166, in '79, to 608 pages costing $837 in '98–'99. In the earlier volumes there were no illustrations, but the volume for '98–'99 had as many as thirty-eight. For four years the JOURNAL was virtually a monthly, but in recent years it has appeared bi-monthly. The first editors received no salary. On the contrary, they were sometimes, it is believed, out of pocket at the end of their term. Under the law of '85 the Editor and Business Manager were different persons and their remuneration was to be the amount received from "ads," the former getting 35, the latter 65 per cent. of the income from "ads." In '87 the Editor was given, in addition, a percentage of the proceeds of subscriptions received from Alumni. It was evidently supposed at that time that the JOURNAL might be made to contribute materially to the Order's income, and the remuneration was so arranged as to stimulate the industry of the Editor and Business Manager. By '91, however, the Order's finances were so much improved that it was decided to combine the offices of Editor and Manager and give the incumbent a salary of $300. This was increased by the K. C. in '96, on certain conditions, to $400. In the following year the subscription price to Alumni—which had been $1.50—was reduced, with a view to a wider circulation, to $1. The five issues of '98–'99 cost, including the Editor's salary, $1.463, of which sum the JOURNAL's earnings supplied $226. Active members receive copies of the JOURNAL free of charge, provided Chapter letters are forthcoming.

Finances.

It is impossible to exaggerate the benefit conferred upon the Order by the creation in 1885, at the instance of J. A. Williams, of the office of Grand Purser, with other steps of a practical character for the increase and better collection of the General Fund. The annual payment per member at that time to the Order's treasury was a trifling one—so small that no enterprise of even moderate cost could be undertaken without special assessments, which are always odious and difficult. Williams conceived and carried through the Convention the bold proposition that the dues of members be quintupled; that they be paid in monthly instalments by the Pursers to a General Officer whose function it should be to look after, receive and have in charge all the moneys of the Order; that this General Officer should have 5 per cent. of all funds collected by him and should report to the K. C. The success of the system has been remarkable. Since 1885 the Order has always had income abundantly sufficient for all its increasing needs, including an expensive JOURNAL, salaries, Annual Catalogues, decennial Catalogues, Chapter registers, report-blank books, Special Messenger, annual reports of the K. C., convention minutes, etc., together with such occasional work as engraving Charter, Coat of Arms and Crest, reprinting Ritual and Code and publishing "K. A. in '97." Surplus revenue, by a law of '95, has gone to a "History and Catalogue Fund" for the publication decennially of a General Catalogue, and this book has been paid for out of this Fund without subscription or assessments upon Chapters or members. The Order since 1891, supplies and owns all the Rituals, Charters, Chapter Registers, report-blank books, etc., used by the Chapters, no longer selling them as formerly to the Chapters. The General Fund, in a word, pays everything, and the Chapters, after once meeting their "General Dues," pay nothing further. As little as possible is left to the chance of individual initiative and zeal.

Organization of Alumni.

The office of Chief Alumnus was created in 1897 with the object of securing a more complete organization of the alumni into alumni chapters, more efficient co-operation of alumni with active chapters, and a larger list of alumni subscribers to the JOURNAL. So far the results have been small, owing probably to the lack of a suitable pamphlet designed to show where alumni chapters are practicable, how to proceed to organize, and what are the rights and duties of such chapters. The dissemination of this information is a desideratum. Experience has taught that two or three meetings a year, with an annual dinner, is about all that may be reasonably expected of most alumni chapters.

Catalogues.

Our laws from the beginning made it the duty of the K. C. "to compile and have printed statistics and Catalogues, showing the general condition of the Order," and Catalogues were made the first charge on the General Fund. The original intention, it appears, was to have the Catalogue printed annually, together with financial reports and statistics of various kinds, but the General Fund proved to be inadequate, with the result that the first Catalogue did not appear till the Order was eight years old, and between 1878 and 1891, owing to lax performance of official duty, the Order for thirteen years was without an up-to-date list of its members. Thanks to the zeal and industry of Bro. Wm. S. Hamilton, an Annual Catalogue began to be published in 1892, and has been since continued, the work being made obligatory by the provisions of the revised constitution of 1893. The records kept by the G. H. now render comparatively easy a task that formerly required almost superhuman energy and a long period of time. The present Catalogue shows 40 living Chapters, an active membership in the year 1899–1900 of about 650, and a total membership since 1865 of 4465.

Our law required the K. C. to publish a General Catalogue, and the first three Catalogues were compiled by this official. But this duty having been neglected for years, the Convention of 1885 entrusted it to Rho. Later it was given to Chi, our most enterprising Chapter, and finally fell to Chick, of Chi, who in '91 completed the admirable General Catalogue of that year. The General Catalogue of 1900 is the work of Paul Murrill, of Theta, who, by the Convention of '99 was made Catalogue Editor—an office then, for the first time, created.

Council of Honor.

The Council of Honor owes its origin to Wm. S. Hamilton, of Alpha, who drafted the section of the Constitution under which one distinguished member is added to the roll by each Convention. Only those who have performed labors that have conduced materially to the Order's advancement—members who have originated something—were intended to be admitted to the Council, but from the first this original purpose has been but indistinctly apprehended by Conventions, with the result that the mere holds ing of a "General" office has at times been accounted by uninformed delegates an adequate qualification. Hence it happen- that several of our greatest benefactors—for example, Wm. N. Scott, the first (I) of Alpha, P. B. Hamer and W. W. Collins—do not at present appear upon the roll of the Council.

Genealogy of the Chapters.

All chapters are descended, of course, from Alpha—most of them, it appears, through Delta. Alpha itself has founded six chapters—Beta, Gamma, Delta, Zeta, Eta and A-Rho. Beta was organized at Alpha's place of meeting by the (I) of Alpha, Gamma and Delta by members of Alpha who had left Washington College to study elsewhere, and Zeta and Eta by members sent for the special purpose of organizing them. Beta is the parent of Omicron prime, A-Zeta and A-Tau. Gamma founded* Epsilon, Theta (prime), Kappa and Nu; Epsilon founded Psi and Phi; and Phi founded A-Beta and A-Upsilon; while Kappa founded Pi prime and A-Sigma.

Delta produced Iota, Theta (second), Mu (prime), Sigma and Chi; and Iota produced Mu (second). Sigma in her turn was the parent of Rho, Tau, A-Delta and A-Eta. In the next generation Tau founded Upsilon and revived Pi, and A-Delta founded A-Kappa and A-Omicron. Chi, vying with Sigma in fertility, produced Omicron, Pi, Omega, A-Alpha, A-Gamma, A-Epsilon, A-Iota and A-Xi. Pi founded Mu (third), and Omicron produced Xi. Omega founded A-Theta which in turn founded the present Theta. A-Iota founded A-Mu and the latter assisted in founding A-Upsilon. A member of Chi was designated by the K. C. to found A-Xi which became the progenitor of A-Pi, and Chi shares with Beta and A-Zeta the honor of founding A-Nu.

Zeta participated in the founding of Eta. Eta founded Lambda, and, along with representatives of Mu (second), Tau, Kappa, and Rho, took a leading part in founding A-Lambda. A-Mu was established by the direct order of a Convention, in consequence of the obstructive character of the "Advisory Board" created in 1891 and abolished in 1893. A-Iota was founded by a K. C. in person, a distinction shared by Kappa, Phi and Psi. Also, the K. C. assisted at the founding of Nu, and A-Sigma.

In our early days the founding of a chapter was largely subject to chance. A member happening to find himself in a college which had no K. A. chapter would ask the K. C. for a charter, but without this suggestion from a peripatetic member nothing, as a rule, was done, though the K. C.'s discretion as to the issue of a charter was absolute. Since 1890, however, the founding of chapters has followed mostly upon action taken by the K. C. after a survey by him of the collegiate field and a careful study of the character and eligibility of growing educational institutions throughout the South. Being the Southern Fraternity par excellence, the Order, it is felt, should occupy every Southern College and University of real merit. It is now accordingly first decided at what institutions chapters are to be desired and then search is made by the K. C. for suitable men to establish them. Policy rather than personal impulse is the decisive factor. A-Omicron, for example, was founded at Fayetteville, Ark., by Claude O'Neal, of A-Delta, who, without previous communication with the petitioners, was sent by the K. C. to ascertain their fitness and act upon instructions, traveling hundreds of miles at the Order's expense for the purpose. A-Rho, A-Sigma, A-Tau are more recent examples. The present policy is to place a chapter in every Southern collegiate institution of high grade, provided the attendance, corps of instructors, endowment and general character are such as to promise stability and success.

* The credit of "founding" is given to the chapter of the man that seems to have taken the chief part in the work.

Extension.

Very different ideas have prevailed in the Order at different times in regard to "extension," its methods and direction. In its first years the Old Alpha gave no thought to the founding of additional chapters, its entire energies being employed in maintaining its own existence. In '68–'69 it lost interest even in that, making no initiations that year and at the end of '69–'70 Alpha died of inertia. Beta's existence for a year or more after its organization in '68 was merely nominal. But for the founding of Gamma and Delta and the impulse thus derived, Zeta and Eta would not have seen the light and the Order would have perished in '70. It is therefore to the Georgia and South Carolina chapters that the Order owes its life. These States, more than all others have determined its character, sustained it through the gloomy years 1870–'80, and ensured its success. To them we owe the fact that our centre of gravity is in the Gulf States—that our heart is in Dixie.

There was in the Old Alpha a sentiment—that of a minority—in favor of rapid extension, this sentiment arising out of the sense of weakness of a small fraternity in a college where there were other fraternities having many chapters. It found expression at first in a disposition to assume identity with northern K. A., a chapter of which had once existed in the University of Virginia, whence Wood was said to have obtained a ritual. When it was proved that there could be no identity with northern K. A., as respects either ritual or descent, the longing for strength took the form of a proposal to fuse with northern K. A., and thus, at one stroke, add four or five new chapters to our list. This proposal often appeared in resolutions presented at Conventions and in letters to the JOURNAL. It ultimately became a proposal to "go North" independently and find there the desired rapid increase of chapters. In the North, it was ~~agreed~~ argued, there are 80 or 100 colleges the average size and wealth of which vastly exceed the average size and wealth of the Southern Colleges at which we have chapters, and it would be easy by "northern extension" to swell our chapter list quickly to 40 or 50 chapters. This increase would give us revenue needed to maintain the JOURNAL and enable us to dispense with our chapters at small colleges. Only big institutions, it began to be said, like the University of Virginia, Harvard and Yale, are fit homes for K. A. chapters. The multiplication of chapters at large northern institutions would give the votes in Convention required for withdrawing charters from all small Southern Colleges. The extinction of some of our oldest chapters at small colleges became, in fact, with many the chief charm of the policy of northern extension, outweighing the supposed advantage that Kappa Alphas going north to study would enjoy in finding fraters at any school they visited.

But the "northern extension" sentiment—which was strong and growing ten years ago—has now almost vanished, owing chiefly to the Order's growth, present sense of strength and increased self-respect. Originating in a consciousness of weakness, it was a temporary phenomenon, bound to disappear when the Order attained its full development in the South. We are no longer weak or poor. With 40 living chapters, ample revenue, an excellent and bountifully supported JOURNAL, salaries for officers, accumulated funds for decennial catalogues, etc.—with all these evidences of self-sufficiency few can now feel that there is need to go beyond our chosen limits to seek the ungracious and impossible task of impressing Southern ideals on Northern men. Mere bigness is not in itself an adequate object. It is wholly undesirable if it is to be secured only by the sacrifice of the homogeneity, unity and warmth of fraternal sentiment which we owe to the maintenance of our traditional policy of restricting our chapters to the South.*

* The college fraternity system of the United States and Canada had its origin in a Southern fraternity, the Phi Beta Kappa, founded at William and Mary, Virginia, in 1776, and the system preserves its ideal excellence only in the South In New England, fraternities, as a rule, are clubs with expensive club houses and a heterogeneous membership, or class societies wholly lacking in fraternal spirit. In the West they tend to large and promiscuous masses and college politics. In the South alone do fraternities realize their proper objects. The Eastern fraternities have few or no chapters in the South; the Southern and Western fraternities have few or no chapters of real weight and influence in the East. Such as exist in the East exist only at the cost of surrendering the features for which fraternities are valued in the South and West. The rivals which the K. A. Order meets in the South are almost exclusively of Southern and Western origin, and without influential chapters in those Eastern institutions to which Southern youth chiefly resort. As the few K. A.'s that go north yearly to study go as graduate students, when too busy to attend chapter meetings, no practical object would be served by establishing chapters there for their convenience.

The first three chapters were established before the office of the K. C. was institu ted. Ammen as (I) of Alpha, presided at the organization of Beta and sanctioned the founding of Gamma. As K. C. he granted the charters of the chapters from the 4th to the 8th and 38th to 47th inclusive; Collins the 9th; Hardeman the 10th, 11th, 12th, 48th, 49th and 50th; Neal the 13th to 17th inclusive; Candler the 18th to 31st; Whitworth the 32d; Hamer the 33d, and White the 34th to 37th inclusive.

As will be noticed, the order of the alphabet has been followed in the naming of the chapters, with the following exceptions: The names Nu and Xi (prime) were set apart for chapters that failed to be established. For no apparent reason Sigma was established before Rho, and Psi before Phi and Chi. When a chapter is dead beyond hope of revival its name is given to another.

Of the 50 chapters chartered, ten are extinct or inactive: Theta prime, Theta second, Iota, Mu prime, Mu second, Mu third, Omicron prime, Pi prime, Rho and Tau. Of these but two, Omicron prime and Pi prime, perished because chartered at institutions of inadequate grade—a fact that speaks well for the good judgment of our K. C.s. The death of Theta prime was due to the suspension of Oglethorpe University, while Theta second, Mu second and third, Iota, Rho and Tau succumbed to anti-fraternity laws. Mu prime died of inanition. The avoidable mortality in a record of 35 years for 50 chapters was thus but 2, or 4 per cent. of the whole number.

INTERNAL DEVELOPEMENT.

Seventeen chapters have been founded in the last decade. Great as this external growth has been, it has been exceeded by the internal growth—by the improvements within that period in ritual, laws, institutions, symbols, publications and other helps to maturity. Many things previously lacking for efficient administration have been supplied, namely: a more precise definition of the duties of general and chapter officers; frequent reports of C. S., C. H., & P. to general officers; budget and itemized financial reports; provision for auditing financial reports; provision for a decennial catalogue and fund for its publication; institution of annual catalogue and secret Special Messenger; the accumulation of a fraternity library in charge of the G. H., with full collection of historical documents and records, and the introduction of a uniform chapter register. To this period belongs our engraved charters, seal, coat-of-arms, crest, banner, flag, colors and flowers, as also the movement favoring a general acquisition of chapter houses and a memorial hall, at Lexington, Va. Zeta was the first chapter to own a house. At present about fifteen chapters occupy chapter houses, and three others are so comfortably fixed in college buildings as not to need houses, while five own the houses they occupy. More than all, our recent K. C.'s have set an example of energetic discharge of official duty, and have enforced discipline among the general officers and chapters, with the result that for the first time in our history our business affairs are managed with something like the strictness and system of a large corporation. This strictness and system have become absolutely necessary, now that we have 40 chapters, with an annual income exceeding $2,200; spending departments that require careful auditing, and various publications, in addition to the JOURNAL, to be edited and paid for.

Charters.

For the establishment of the chapters Beta to Eta inclusive, dispensations were granted until printed charters could be obtained. In 1872–3 printed charters were issued by W. W. Collins to the chapters then in existence (Gamma, Delta, Epsilon, Zeta, Eta), and to other chapters as they were established. In 1894, the present engraved charters were designed by the K. C. and have since been sent by the G. H. to all chapters applying for them, and to new chapters as they have been established.

The K. V. System.

The K. V. system was inaugurated by the 12th convention, June 13, 1883, and was abolished by the 13th convention, Oct. 1, 1885. In some particulars it may be regarded as a forerunner of the G. P. system, which was put into effect at the last named date. Records and information regarding the K. V.'s are very fragmentary and incomplete.

The fraternity was divided at first into four districts or commanderies, and an executive officer called Knight Visitant was appointed for each district. Subsequently (in '84) the fifth commandery was formed by subdividing the third. Among the duties of these officers were those of visiting and inspecting each chapter in their jurisdiction, and of collecting the annual assessments from the chapters. The persons named below are known to have held the office, but the records fail to show when each one was chosen, or how long each held office. The officers were appointed by the K. C. from nominations made by the Convention.

The system was an effort to meet a problem that still exists—how to secure efficient inspection of the chapters. Our territory is too wide for the K. C. to visit all chapters, and see that they manage their affairs in the best possible manner. The chapters need personal instructions as to initiations and secret work; as to the working of our laws and chapter management; as to dealings with erring trustees and anti-fraternity movements; as to chapter houses and various local matters. The advice and guidance of a man of experience would solve many chapter difficulties. Between 1891 and 1897 the K. C. attempted to meet the want in part by bringing the chapters in each state under the influence of some locally popular and energetic alumnus, but it was found to be impracticable to get the alumnus to take his duties seriously, or the chapter to look to him for advice. Nor is it desirable to weaken the K. C.'s authority by interposing officials between him and the chapters. The problem may be solved, when the finances of the Order will permit such a step, by authorizing the K. C. to employ, subject to his control, a brother skilled in fraternity matters to visit the chapters, with authority to inspect and correct faulty methods, give instruction and encouragement, and generally see that K. A. work is everywhere conformed to the best model. Among the "Masons" there is such an official, called a "lecturer," who, when directed by the central authority, visits new chapters to train them in the chapter work, and old chapters to improve their modes of proceedure.

Boards and Commissions.

The "Board of Directors" and "Advisory Board" no longer exist. They are traces left in our history of obsolete conditions. It was noted in connection with the K. C.-ship that the office between '80 and '91 lost prestige, owing chiefly to the neglect of the K. C.'s of that period to keep in close touch with the chapters as the law required; particularly the neglect of reports, catalogues and other work of a necessary character. It was, in consequence, several times proposed by contributors to the JOURNAL to abolish the office of K. C. That official began in fact to be regarded as a far-off personage, out of the current of affairs and personally unacquainted with the chapters and their needs. Hence the creation by the Convention of '89 of a Board of Directors to fill General offices vacated by death—a function previously exercised by the K. C.

This Board in '91 was replaced by an "Advisory Board" with larger powers. The latter Board was the expression of a sentiment that attained its maximum strength about ten years ago, to the effect that the Order already had too many chapters; that it was desirable to multiply obstructions to chartering by depriving the K. C. of this function and prescribing impracticable conditions; that the K. C.'s judgment as to institutions fit to enter was not as good as that of a Board appointed by a convention would be; that the K. C. had made many mistakes in chartering and a Board would do better. It was accordingly proposed to lodge the chartering power in a Board governed by obstructive regulations of a radical character. The result, as soon as the resolution of the convention became operative, was that the establishment of new chapters ceased. Few members, however, were pleased with this outcome, in view of the fact that many institutions we have since gladly entered were then still unoccupied by us. Moreover, the principle of government by Boards was an unwelcome one. The Convention of '93 therefore abolished the Advisory Board and restored the control of chartering in effect to the K. C. In place of the Board was created an Electoral Commission restricted to the function of electing General Officers when notified officially of a vacancy.

In closing this sketch the author wishes to express his regret that want of space has made it impracticable to present various aspects of the many-sided life of the Order that may be deemed more interesting than the topic of institutional history to which he has given most attention. Much interest attaches to the romance of chapter-founding, the struggles and successes of individual chapters and to the personal characteristics of officers and members, who, year after year, devoted themselves with zeal to K. A. interests. Without their work our present position would not have been attained. If this record is almost silent upon many important achievements of the rank and file, it may be pleaded in extenuation that the present magnificent position of the Kappa Alpha Order—its extent, its solidity, its strength—is an adequate memorial of their efforts and success.

FOUNDERS OF THE FRATERNITY:—J. W. Wood and W. N. Scott.

CHARTER MEMBERS (re-establishment in 1875):—J. T. Akers, T. P. Calbreath, W. F. Cosner, H. M. Sydenstricker and W. P. McCorkle.

Alpha, the Mother Chapter of Kappa Alpha, was established December 21, 1865. In 1870 it ceased to exist and was inactive for nearly five years. On March 10, 1875, it was revived by T. E. McCorkle, and a charter was issued by J. L. Hardeman, K. C., to the members above named. It again became inactive in 1878, and remained so till October 26, 1885, when it was received by W. G. Hatchett (Eta), with the aid of Beta Chapter.

The chapter of 1865–'70 is commonly referred to as the "Old Alpha" and was the supreme or governing chapter during that period.

BETA CHAPTER.

CHARTER MEMBERS:—W. F. Pearson, W. M. Jerdone, J. E. Hollingsworth and †W. M. Sears.

FOUNDERS:—S. Z. Ammen, and others of Alpha.

Established March 8, 1868, by S. Z. Ammen, presiding officer of Alpha. In 1872–3 it became inactive (due to members being in statu dormiendi rather than to the lack of a quorum, inasmuch as a business quorum existed until end of session of 1873–4), and in 1874 the Chapter was revived by Wm. D. Vance. Fraternities were never officially recognized by the authorities of the Institute, but met with no direct opposition until 1884–5. The suppression of fraternities was decreed June 30, 1885, and the chapter disbanded January 29, 1887.

Beta was the governing chapter from the death of Alpha in June, '70, until the assumption of the authority by Gamma in 1872–3.

Members of Beta Chapter.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE,

WAKE FOREST, N. C.

Chartered in 1834. Controlled by Baptist Church.

FRATERNITIES:

Kappa Alpha, 1881–'95.

TAU CHAPTER.

CHARTER MEMBERS: E. S. Alderman, Thos. Dixon, Geo. E. Hunter, Archibald McDowell, and J. R. Nichols.

FOUNDERS: R. L. Ryburn and C. C. Bellamy, (both of Sigma).

The Chapter was chartered Jan. 8, 1881, by D. R. Neal, K. C. Anti-fraternity laws are rigidly enforced at the College, and the Chapter remained sub-rosa throughout its existence. In June, 1884, Tau was suppressed by the faculty, three of its members going to Eta and five to Upsilon. On December 10, 1889 the Chapter was revived through the efforts of Wm. S. Hamilton, of Alpha, and was re-chartered by H. H. White, K. C., but on April 11, 1890 it met with a similar fate. Since October 1891, the charter has been in custody of P. H. Cooke of Upsilon, and initiations into the Chapter have been made in 1891–2, 1892–3, and 1894–5.
